

PAHOKEE INSTALLING WHITE WAY AND PLANS TO TURN ON LIGHTS CHRISTMAS EVE

Will Light Business Section with Juice Manufactured by Diesel Engine

If present plans materialize citizens of Pahkee will see a new white way brilliantly lighted on Christmas eve. Workmen are busy today setting the white way posts and work will immediately get and work will immediately get under way on laying the submarine cable from the water plant through which current will be carried to the lights. Present plans call for installation at this time of 28 street lights, current for which will be manufactured by the recently installed Diesel engine in the new water works building.

Several months ago the town council purchased the lighting equipment in Indiantown where

It was bought during the boom for street lighting purposes. Much of the equipment purchased by the council arrived in Babakan in 1929.

couch arrived in Panokee in its original shipping crates and is as good as new. Few minor parts will have to be purchased before complete installation can be made. These, however, have been arranged for, it was stated by a member of the committee.

On the Council.

At seven o'clock the City of Palokah has three street lights serving the entire city electricity for which is purchased from the Florida Power Light Company.

The members of the council feel that with installation of the new white way the town will be in the ways than one.

At the intersection of the Belle Glade road and the Canal Point road, there will be erected, Four more are planned for the corner where Bacom Point road crosses the Belle Glade road. One will be placed at the corner of C. Mock and another near the home of George Tabb on North Bacom road.

At the intersection of the Belle Glade road the white way will run as far as the post office with the lights staggered on each side of the road. On the Canal Point road the lights will run out of the business section as far as the Rice Mercantile company and the school building. Staggering positions will be used on these also.

The Direct engine in the new water works plant is used to manufacture electricity which is used to operate the motors in pumping water. When the city purchased several months ago by the council, they purchased one large engine to operate the pumps for several street lights and at the same time create enough electricity to operate the pumps. The installation of the white way, water pumping will be done at night instead of during the day time, it was announced at city council.

Pickett Relieved

The letter below is self-explanatory and will clear up any misunderstanding which may have occurred. I leave the matter discussed therein:

December 9, 1935.

John T. Pickett, Jr.,
Canal Point, Florida.

Dear Sir:

With reference to our conversation of December 6, regarding Mr. P. L. Merrick taking over the duties of your office on December 7, I regret that this office must discontinue your services as you are aware that our administrative costs are entirely too high to pay for an Assistant Council. It is also necessary that we have some one in that area six weeks of the time. We are in constant contact with the project as there will be from time to time a necessity that these projects be worked on different days and dates to meet the payroll period.

I also realize that the rate of pay is not to pay at all. I realize that does not meet with your approval—taking up all of your time on this project and the time you are causing you to neglect your profession as an engineer.

I wish to thank you for your co-operation and efforts in this while with this organization.

You are being allowed vacation time from now to and including December 12th.

Trusting we may have, in the future, the same services on some of these projects and I remain,

Very truly yours,
HEDLEY F. W. MCNEIL,
District Director FWPA,
District Three.

If you can't, leave, you'll not get far in trying to drive.

OPEN FORUM

The Everglades News, Canal Point, Florida.

Dear Editor:

I wonder if you will give me space in your valuable paper to ask a few questions? I wonder why it is that traveling tent shows and circuses are allowed to pitch their tents in Pahokee and carry off every dime they can get their hands on right at a time when our home folks are in dire need and asking for FERA relief? Do the people of Pahokee realize that these fly by night outfits do nothing toward building up a community? Do our folks realize that they are being enticed to spend their money with no return when it comes to paying taxes, adding in keeping the schools and churches going?

All these things are to be taken into consideration—not to say a thing about the traveling of a colored boy during the parade in Pahokee Wednesday. Who is going to pay that young chap's doctor bill and who is going to pay for carrying him to the hospital in West Palm Beach? Will the people pay the costs of it or will it fall to the lot of home folks to bear the burden?

Believing as I do that some arrangements should be made whereby these outfits should be made to pay and pay heavily, I ask that you publish this letter in order that something may be done about this matter.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

By Russell Kay

You know I've just thought "country boy" in my makeup to bring a whole of a thrill out of a trip to the big town, and while I doubt if I would ever want to make it my permanent home it sure is a swell place to spend a brief vacation.

The countless blocks of towering buildings, the millions of people, the hustle and bustle always give me the impression that I'm in a gigantic mad-house.

And everyone takes life so seriously—everyone is always in a hurry. They fight their way through whirling doors and turnstiles, jump maddly from a local to an express to save two minutes, only to lose five watching a street vendor demonstrate "Mickey Mouse" or gazing at a window dresser making up a new window display.

From morning 'till night the crisp order "Stand Back Please" and "Watch Your Step" rings in your ear. The great sea of humanity pushes you this way and that. You either an office and bang up against the outer guard of telephone girls and office boys who ask if you have an appointment in a tone that intimates that you are a terrible interloper.

Each morning the great mass of Manhattan opens up to receive its quivering, quaking influx of humanity poured into it from every direction by elevated subway, ferry boats and numerous motor cars. People, people, people, fighting their way through the crowd, fighting their way home again in the day out in the summer's stifling heat and the winter's bitter cold.

And it is into the very heart of this mad whirl that Florida has come, and with it, a more comprehensive exhibit of her charms, advantages, products and resources that has yet been staged.

Backed by the knowledge and experience gained at A Century of Progress in Chicago, Earl Brown and his co-workers have outlined themselves in this presentation, the Florida National Exhibits at Rockefeller Center.

Backed by the exhibit was officially opened thousands had visited the exhibit halls thronged by the life-size dioramas, palm trees, tropical plants, colorful fruit displays and other attractions.

By the opening train, thousands more trekked through the building, listening to Governor Sholtz's stirring declaration addressed to the people of the state, and cordial invitation from charming Ruth Bryan Owen to come and visit our state.

And everyone who visits the exhibit is not content until they can return and bring others to see it and proudly show their month's advertising is bringing ever increasing crowds while daily radio talks and constant publicity in metropolitan papers will help to swell the growing tide of visitors.

I doubt if any other advertising done by the state this winter will prove as effective and profitable from the standpoint of the amount invested as this marvelous exhibit at Rockefeller Center.

The support given the exhibit by the Citrus Commission is also justified and the return on that investment will be felt in increased demand for Florida citrus fruits.

It should be however, get the full benefit it offers by tying up with the exhibit in their advertising campaign in northern papers with the line "Don't Fail to Visit the Florida National Exhibits at Rockefeller Center."

During my brief stay in New York I took time out to visit the offices of Ruthrauff and Ryan, advertising agency handling our citrus account. It is one of the largest and most efficient in the country and the manner in which they have taken hold of the job is very creditable. Now, if we can just exercise a little more common sense and judgment in intelligently regulating the movement of our fruit from this end, the campaign should be very beneficial.

The sharp decline in Florida citrus last week indicates the need of prompt action in this direction.

PURCHASING DEVON BULLS ARE PLACED ON RANGE IN HIGHLANDS COUNTY

Devon bulls will be given a thorough trial in a Highlands county herd of range beef cattle, it is announced by H. Harold Hume, assistant director of research with the Florida Experiment Station in Gainesville. Five good type bulls of this breed recently were sold by the Everglades Experiment Station in Belle Glade to W. S. Pearce, Fort Lauderdale.

Cows of the Devon breed have proven their worth in the production of both beef and milk, and this breed is gaining favor among range cattlemen for building up native herds. Mr. Pearce plans to turn the bulls on range, but will give them supplemental feeding this winter.

COMING BOOM

An unusual situation seems to be prevailing in the country, on the eve of a presidential election campaign. News from Washington, and the commercial and industrial centers of the east, indicates that another "boom" is on the way.

There are many indications of "better business" in many quarters. The automobile industry is enjoying its most prosperous period since the dark days of 1929. Stocks are up, the heavy goods industries report mounting orders, car loadings are heavier, everything seems to be so much on the upgrade that Mr. Eccles, governor of the federal reserve board is said to be giving deep thought to what must be done to control credit and prevent a "runaway stock market." The present financial worry seems to be possible deflation—credit inflation this time. Credit isn't inflation unless there is a demand for expansion and expansion means better business—possibly a boom.

Most such conditions with those that are usual to campaign years—when the Republicans are in power. Stocks are depressed, factories lay off workers, production is curtailed, pressure is brought to bear on labor to vote for Republicans to assure another four years of prosperity. "Another four years of the full dinner pail" was the O. R. H. campaign cry at the close of the McKinley administration. The country was led to believe that if the Democrats were put in power "big business" would clamp down, curtail production or expansion and we would have four lean years ahead.

This coming year, according to predictions, will be a year of great interest. No one is going to try to stop returning prosperity, so we will see what we will see when business is better in the middle of a presidential election campaign.—Ocala Star.

GROWING SCHOOLS

Figures reveal that the public school enrollment in this county some 500 pupils increased over this time last year, with the expectancy of a peak enrollment within the next few weeks of 12,000 or more.

It requires, of course, a little plant for their successful operation. The investment is large, both with respect to money investment and that investment which is made by instructors in obtaining abilities and enlarging capabilities from year to year.

Palm Beach county is one of the outstanding of the 47 counties in the state in the standard of service given to these thousands of children. Facilities in the way of equipment and teachers are excellent and scarcely to be equaled by proportional areas among the states that are in the very forefront of educational standards.

The public schools, free alike to all children, are perhaps the most glorious of American institutions. Adopted by the states early after formation of the republic, it has grown into the minds and hearts of the American people to such an extent that any interference with its orderly processes, from whatever cause, brings resentment to the state and the interference is eliminated at once.

What the people think of their public school system recently has been illustrated in Florida where it appeared that state financing for their support might be lacking to the detriment of normal terms.

Nowhere is there more interest exhibited in school welfare than in Palm Beach county, where from Superintendent Youngblood and Principal Watkins on down to the humblest teacher is support of such strength as to brook no disturbance or disruption.

In their attitude toward the free public school the American people in general stand as the old actor—the show must go on. And so it is with the schools.—Palm Beach Post.

SLIPS OF THE TYPE

Writing in Vanity Fair for June, 1935, on "Slips of the Type," Edmund Pearson tells what happens when one or two types become misaligned while the proof-reader checks.

When, on the death of President McKinley, Theodore Roosevelt succeeded to the highest office, a New York editor decided to contrast the event with a recent coronation in Europe. But the compositor, coming to the word "oath," in the manuscript, struck a wrong key and the sentence appeared: "When Roosevelt took his simple bath as President of the United States."

Typsetters also omit letters, notably so when a De Moten newspaper reported of Mr. Witter Byner, the poet that he had been shot by the poet.

Mr. Byner took it greatly, remarking: "They probably thought it was a record of chamber-music."

Then there is the almost classical story about Bert Harte when a

For CHRISTMAS

CHRISTMAS and candy are almost, synonymous. There should be boxes and boxes of candy, not only at Christmas time, but some of it in those beautifully illustrated tin boxes which can be kept and used as receptacles for ties, gloves, handkerchiefs, pens, pencils, manicure sets and all sorts of odds and ends that it is convenient to have segregated from the rest of the contents of a drawer and to be able to carry about with you.

But it's fun to make some of your own candy for Christmas—not only fun but it results in delicious varieties of candy which no regular manufacturer could make.

You'll make a hit with this fresh made candy, so here are suggestions to show you how. Try this unusual

When a friend wishes that all my dreams may come true, I emphatically protest. Most of my dreams are so brief, silly, impossible and entirely frivolous that I imagined they, or any portion of them should come true, I'd begin to look up an antidote or preventive at once.

When a man joins church, he should not only get religion but he should reform.

very young editor. He wrote the obituary notice of a most respectable lady, closing with: "above all ladies of this town, she was distinguished for her chastity." Instead of making the correction, he merely put a mark of quotation on the margin of the proof, with this result: Mrs. McGilgigan, above all the ladies of this town, was distinguished for her chastity ("").

Certain words are a standing peril to the typesetter. A collision between a train and a cow, reported in a newspaper, ended with the remark that the engineer "putting an end of a house than a cow and the cow and literally cut it into halves." An unfortunate impression was given when a newspaper, reporting a wedding with a double quartet of bridesmaids, said: "The bride was accompanied to the altar by light bridesmaids."

The window has harassed the editors of all English-speaking countries, but was nevertheless astonishing to find House & Garndeen remarking casually: "Nothing appears a greater variety to the appearance of a house than a few draped widows."—Stuart Daily News.

PRODUCE
Quality BEANS AND TOMATOES
by using SULFOCIDE

Spraying and dipping beans and tomatoes in Sulfocide greatly increases protection and freedom from disease. Recent experiment station tests on tomatoes confirm these remarkable results. Dipping tomatoes in Sulfocide reduced losses (in these experiments) as low as 1 to 5 per cent.

Produce beans and tomatoes that bring quality prices, by spraying them and washing them with the quality spray—Sulfocide. Begin spraying your tomatoes in Sulfocide; begin spraying your beans as soon as they come up. After picking, dip them in a solution of Sulfocide and soap. This prevents anthracnose, makes beans look crisp and snappy, and gives tomatoes that bright luscious look that brings top prices.

Shippers all over the country enjoy the fine appearance of Florida beans and tomatoes dipped in Sulfocide. The best Sulfocide is Florida Sulfocide—insist on having it.

At Christmas Time...

ALL ROADS LEAD TO HOME

Go home for the holidays if you can. The clasp of a welcoming hand, the sound of a friendly voice, are gifts of happiness that nobody should forego.

Time or distance, however, may prevent your visiting a few close friends and relatives whom you would so much like to see. Then all you have to do, as many folks have learned, is to let "long distance" bring you and your friends together for a voice-to-voice visit.

It doesn't matter whether you call on Christmas Day or not, you will both get a real thrill from your telephone visit any time during the holiday season.

The pleasure you will experience from your visits by telephone is not expensive. For example, by using Station-to-Station service after 7 P. M., you can talk 150 miles for about 50 cents, and other distances for similarly low cost.

Your "long distance" operator will be pleased to inform you about rates to any point, and help make your holidays pleasant by giving quick connections to the friends you want to greet.

"Built to Take It"

Says Frank Buck, Famous Explorer

"Trekking" through the jungles has taught me that there is no substitute for ruggedness and dependability in a motor car. For over 20 years Dodge has been famous for these qualities. Everybody knows a Dodge can "take it."

Added to these attributes Dodge has been smashing all economy records—has set as for the new 1936 Dodge... there are reports from new Dodge owners all over the country stating they are getting 18 to 24 miles to the gallon of gasoline—and saving up to 20% on oil.

To top it all—this big, new, Money-Saving Dodge has been acclaimed the "Best Winner" of 1936 by famous fashion authorities in all parts of the country. Yet Dodge now costs only a few dollars more than the lowest-priced cars.

It used to be all very fine in the olden days for the men to wander about the countryside singing, while their wives stayed home preparing the feast.

Now, however, Mrs. Housewife goes along, yet the feast is ready just the same. She has chosen a clean, time-saving electric
